Wherever there is a touch of color, a note of a song, grace in a form, this is called love.

Celebrating 29 years in practice!

INTERIOR DESIGN ART FURNITURE DRAPERY FENG SHUI

Here we are in the Autumn Season, my favorite time of year. I love the crisp air, brilliant sky and dancing leaves. I love the sound of the crickets and birds, the unique fragrances, and the air of mystery. Mother Nature has her own rhyme and reason, and we can celebrate the Harvest Time along with the Earth, by being grateful for all we have, all we are, and honoring our environment, and our home. We can notice not only the changes in the air, the pace of life, and the colors of the leaves, but also notice the way we live, and our homes and work places.

At the change of every season I encourage you to let fall away that which you cannot use, that which you cannot absorb. This will mean de cluttering and space clearing, cleaning out and re-organizing the environments that you occupy.

Your goal is a clean canvas, in which to re-create “the new you” and how you want to live. If we have recently re-designed, refreshed and enhanced your space then you know how rewarding it is to harmonize with your home and office.

Let's discover what works for you! I welcome your calls and emails to discuss and to schedule an appointment before the super busy Winter holidays!

Mindy Wagner established her interior design practice, Mindy Wagner & Associates, in 1983. Feng Shui, she soon discovered, was the missing link between her business life of art and design and her personal practice of meditation, yoga, and dance. Mindy began integrating Feng Shui into her design projects in 1995 and today holds a certification in Feng Shui for Real Estate. Mindy can be contacted for consultations and projects at 240.620.2301 or www.mindywagner.com.

Make your projects a success... from real estate sold in 90 days to transforming health care facilities to full capacity!

As many of you know I have always worked on both luxury residential interiors, as well as commercial office spaces, retail showroom spaces, and public areas such as building lobbies and corridors.

In 2007 we launched an extensive design, renovation and furnishing of a healing environment; Potomac Valley Nursing & Wellness Center in Rockville, Maryland. The transformation was truly remarkable, as we worked our magic throughout all the public spaces as well as the 120 bed resident rooms. Each area had its own theme, and special set of framed artwork and color signature to define this very large facility and make it a warm and welcoming spa-like atmosphere. This successful project was followed in 2008 with a new design for Collingswood Nursing & Rehabilitation Center in Rockville, Maryland, and more recently, in 2010 - 2012 we have redesigned and furnished the public areas of Rockville Nursing Home in Rockville, Maryland.

I recently completed a ten year study of FENG SHUI and took a certification course with Feng Shui Paradigms, taught by Feng Shui Master Suzee Miller. The goal of this practice is to bring a mysterious and ancient art form into the practical world of interior design, creating dynamic energy and beauty that works together symbolically and in three dimensions to produce the right atmospheres in a room or a space that reflect the personality of my clients, and enhances their well being. Having years of experience as an interior designer raises this practice to new heights!

A quarterly publication, widely distributed in health related centers, as well as organic food stores, Be Well Montgomery published an article I wrote about The Romantic Bedroom... and another article on Spring Renewal and Space Clearing in their online journal. I am advertising my Interior Design/Feng Shui service as SACRED SPACES in Be Well Montgomery, and it has brought me together with residential and business clients who wish to uplift their environments to greater beauty, comfort, and healing energy. I have been assisting both Realtors and their clients in getting homes ready for the market with my Feng Shui Staging techniques, and their average sale time has been significantly shortened much to the delight of homeowners and realtors who are impressed with the success of these simple yet unique tools. I welcome more projects in this sphere.

As we head into 2013, I envision a new clarity of purpose for myself and my clients who want each brick of their home and office to radiate the highest possible level of aesthetics and energy!

Here's to that.
